

GOODProjects Development Division

Team Structure & Responsibilities

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

A Stronger Foundation for Fundraising

As GOODProjects continues to grow, we are refining the structure of the Development Division to ensure we can increase revenue, improve stewardship of existing partners, and create a sustainable fundraising operation that is not dependent on any one individual.

The Development Division is responsible for securing, stewarding, and reporting on the resources necessary to support the mission and growth of GOODProjects.

Our Goal

Bring more resources into the organization while providing exceptional service and stewardship to those who already support our work.

DEVELOPMENT DIVISION LEADERSHIP

Neo – Development Lead

Neo serves as the lead of the Development Division and is responsible for the overall fundraising pipeline, relationship strategy, and management of the Development Team. As the division's strategic anchor, Neo ensures that the team operates cohesively, resources are deployed effectively, and organizational fundraising goals are met with discipline and clarity.

Primary Responsibilities

Pipeline & Strategy

- Identify and pursue new funding opportunities
- Develop fundraising strategies and priorities
- Review major grant submissions before final approval

Relationships

- Build and maintain relationships with foundations, corporations, government agencies, and individual donors
- Coordinate with Executive Leadership on fundraising goals

Team Management

- Manage Development Division workflows
- Supervise Development Team members
- Ensure capacity alignment and productivity across the division

Success Metrics

Dollars Submitted

Total funding submitted to prospective funders across all grant types

Dollars Awarded

Confirmed grants and contributions received by GOODProjects

surfaced and pursued

Engagement & Retention

Funder engagement levels and year-over-year retention of existing partners

Team Performance

Productivity, quality output, and timely execution across division members

DEVELOPMENT DIVISION

Dumi – Grant Writer

The Grant Writer is responsible for producing high-quality grant proposals, applications, and funding submissions across foundation, corporate, government, and federal funding sources. This role is squarely focused on execution and production — turning opportunities identified by the Development Lead into polished, compelling submissions that represent GOODProjects at its best.

Primary Responsibilities

Proposal Production

- Draft grant proposals and applications
- Prepare foundation, corporate, government, and federal submissions
- Utilize existing GOODProjects materials, reports, and templates
- Leverage AI tools to improve efficiency and output quality
- Support development of new program concepts when opportunities require it

Pipeline & Deadlines

- Maintain grant submission calendar
- Track proposal progress and deadlines
- Attend grant webinars and technical assistance sessions as needed
- Communicate proactively with the Development Lead on submission timelines

Success Metrics & Reporting

Volume & Timeliness

Number of grants submitted and submission timeliness against deadlines

Quality & Impact

Proposal quality scores and award rate achieved from completed submissions

Turnaround Time

Time from assignment to draft completion — a key indicator of team efficiency

Reporting Structure

Reports directly to Neo.

Melissa – Reporting & Stewardship Manager

The Reporting & Stewardship Manager is responsible for ensuring GOODProjects fulfills all obligations to existing funders, donors, and partners. This role is the organizational backbone of funder trust — focused on relationship maintenance, reporting compliance, and the consistent stewardship that keeps partners engaged and renewed year after year.

Primary Responsibilities

Reporting & Compliance

- Maintain master reporting calendar
- Track all grant and donor reporting deadlines
- Draft grant reports and funder updates
- Coordinate with Operations and Finance to obtain required data
- Ensure all reporting obligations are completed accurately and on time

Stewardship & Relationships

- Maintain regular communication with funders and donors
- Support individual giving stewardship efforts
- Schedule and participate in stewardship meetings and check-ins
- Track donor engagement and follow-up activities

Success Metrics & Reporting

On-Time Reporting Rate

Percentage of all grant and donor reports submitted on or before deadline

Funder & Donor Retention

Year-over-year retention of active funders and individual donors through strong stewardship

Accuracy & Touchpoints

Quality of reports submitted and number of meaningful stewardship touchpoints completed per cycle

Reporting Structure

Reports directly to the Development Lead.

How We Work Together

No single team member owns the entire process. The Development Division operates as an integrated unit — each role feeds the next, creating a complete and self-reinforcing fundraising cycle. Success depends on collaboration and clear communication across every stage of the process.

Escalation Expectations

Neo must be informed immediately when any of the following arise. Early escalation protects the team, the funder relationship, and the organization's reputation.

⚠ Problems should be escalated early — not after deadlines have passed or relationships have been strained.

- Missed or At-Risk Deadlines
- Delayed or Incomplete Reports
- Funder Concerns or Complaints
- Submission Risks or Blockers
- Capacity Challenges
- Opportunities Requiring Executive Involvement

FY2026 DIVISION GOAL

Building a Development Operation That Scales

We are building a division that operates proactively, communicates clearly, and delivers results — one that can grow with the organization without sacrificing quality or relationships.

Identify Opportunities

Consistently surface qualified funding prospects across all categories

High-Quality Submissions

Produce compelling, accurate proposals that reflect our mission with excellence

Excellent Relationships

Maintain strong, trust-based connections with every funder and donor

Increase Revenue

Grow annual funding while meeting all reporting requirements on time

Scalable Systems

Create workflows and infrastructure that can grow with the organization

Thank You

Thank you all for your commitment to the mission and to the families we serve. The work you do in the Development Division makes everything else possible — and we are grateful for each of you.

Together, we are building something that lasts.
